

Presentation Facilities

For each lecture session, a LCD projector and an overhead transparency projector will be available. To use the LCD projector you must bring your own laptop computer.

For each poster paper, a space of 1.5m wide by 1m high is provided.

Substitute Presenters

Acceptance of papers is made with the understanding that one of the co-authors will attend the ASCC and present the paper. If a paper is not presented during a session, it disrupts the session and defeats the purpose of the conference, which is to meet people and exchange the latest information about our research results. Authors who cannot attend the conference and present the paper are expected to find someone to present the paper. Quality of the conference is very important to us, and quality includes that of the presentation as well as the publication. If for some reason the author(s) cannot find a substitute presenter, notification should be sent to the 2002 ASCC Program Chair, one week before the conference.

Internet Access Service

Internet access stations available for your convenience in the exhibition room 304.
