LEARNING IN NUS

THIS YEAR, THE NATIONAL UNIVERSITY OF SINGAPORE (NUS) CELEBRATES ITS 110TH YEAR OF FOUNDING TOGETHER WITH SINGAPORE’S 50TH YEAR OF INDEPENDENCE. The University’s history is intertwined with Singapore’s development as a nation, and is marked by a rich tradition of leadership and contribution to country and society.

Founded in 1905 as a modest medical school with 23 students in Outram, NUS is today widely known for its innovative and rigorous education which has nurtured generations of leaders across industries, professions and sectors in Singapore and beyond.

ASIAN ROOTS, GLOBAL REACH
The University’s education is distinguished by its global and Asian outlook. Currently ranked among the world’s top universities, NUS is a research powerhouse with a lively and cosmopolitan community of inquiring minds spread across our 16 schools and 26 university-level research institutes and centres.

MULTIPLE ACADEMIC PATHWAYS
Our comprehensive curriculum and over 70 joint, concurrent and double degree programmes with leading universities around the world offer students multiple academic pathways. Nearly seven out of 10 undergraduate students in NUS go on overseas study opportunities with 300 top universities in more than 40 countries, or pursue internships in high-tech start-ups through our NUS Overseas Colleges for a unique entrepreneurial educational experience.

Complemented with a vibrant student life which promotes a collegial campus climate, we have a diverse student population of over 37,000 from 100 countries at our three campuses – Kent Ridge, Bukit Timah and Outram.

We have also pioneered a new form of residential colleges at NUS University Town, resulting in diverse and collaborative learning communities.

KENT RIDGE CAMPUS
NUS’ main campus since 1980, the sprawling 150-hectare Kent Ridge Campus hosts most of the University’s academic, research and administrative facilities. It is also a bustling hub of student life, with a myriad of student residences, sports facilities and venues for arts and cultural activities.

University Town (UTown) – an extension of the Kent Ridge Campus – introduces the residential college concept of learning and living on campus, a first in Singapore’s higher education landscape. UTown’s design integrates green concepts and offers a host of educational and recreational spaces which encourage interaction, peer learning and personal development.

BUKIT TIMAH CAMPUS
The Bukit Timah Campus houses the Faculty of Law, the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy as well as the Asia Research Institute and East Asian Institute. Marked by its distinctive colonial-style building architecture, its rich history dates back to 1928 when NUS’ predecessor institution, Raffles College, was established.

OUTRAM CAMPUS
Located among many of the nation’s key medical institutions, NUS’ Outram Campus is home to the Duke-NUS Graduate Medical School Singapore (Duke-NUS). Duke-NUS offers an innovative medical education programme with a distinctive research focus, designed to develop a new generation of medical leaders in research, education and patient care.

GET INVOLVED IN CAMPUS ACTIVITIES!

Find out more at nus.edu.sg/osu or nussu.org.sg.
As a community, NUS continually finds ways to enhance the environmental sustainability of our campus. We roll out various initiatives throughout the year which promote and reinforce the concept and importance of campus sustainability.

The Office of Environmental Sustainability organised NUS’ inaugural electronic waste (e-waste) recycling drive in 2014 which saw a staggering 34,400 kg of e-waste collected. To promote the recycling of used and unwanted electrical items, the drive comprised an awareness-raising event to educate the NUS community about e-waste and the harmful effects of improper disposal. NUS staff and students were encouraged to drop off their e-waste for recycling at the event, which saw a turnout of over 1,500 people.

GIVING BACK

THE UNIVERSITY’S UNSTINTING SUPPORT FOR COMMUNITY SERVICE is a tradition established by our pioneering alumni more than a century ago.

NUS GIVES

As a student, you can get involved in the many student-driven activities that extend a helping hand to the less fortunate. The annual Flag Day organised by NUSSU raises funds for 20 beneficiaries under Singapore’s Community Chest, benefitting the elderly, children, families and individuals with disabilities. About 6,000 students spend this day seeking donations from the public across the island.

There are many other avenues for students to be part of this culture of giving. The NUS Volunteer Action Committee (NVAC) is a non-profit student volunteer organisation that encourages student initiatives. Actively driving a range of community projects, including overseas projects in countries such as Cambodia and Vietnam, NVAC is the first student group to be conferred the prestigious President’s Social Service Award as well as Singapore International Foundation Award. Many NUS students also organise independent overseas community projects through clubs and faculties.

University-YMCA (Uni-Y) Singapore, founded in 2005, comprises chapters from NUS, Nanyang Technological University and Singapore Management University. Uni-Y service clubs all over the world aim to develop and empower youths to be leaders who will impact the local and international communities.

Uni-Y has been conferred the Singapore Youth Award 2014, the country’s highest accolade for youths presented by Singapore’s National Youth Council, which recognises exceptional youngsters who enrich the hearts and souls of the community and bring distinction to the nation.

GREEN NUS

As a community, NUS continually finds ways to enhance the environmental sustainability of our campus. We roll out various initiatives throughout the year which promote and reinforce the concept and importance of campus sustainability.

The Office of Environmental Sustainability organised NUS’ inaugural electronic waste (e-waste) recycling drive in 2014 which saw a staggering 34,400 kg of e-waste collected. To promote the recycling of used and unwanted electrical items, the drive comprised an awareness-raising event to educate the NUS community about e-waste and the harmful effects of improper disposal. NUS staff and students were encouraged to drop off their e-waste for recycling at the event, which saw a turnout of over 1,500 people.

our eco-passion is evident through our students, who are ardent green advocates. The NUS Students Against Violation of the Earth (SAVE) actively promotes environmental awareness and action on campus. Its first-of-its-kind environmental-cum-social clothes recycling campaign seeks to encourage the NUS community to recycle their old and unwanted clothes. Aptly named Green Wardrobes, clothes recycling bins were placed near student residences, and the items collected were recycled in developing countries. Proceeds went to the beneficiaries within the South West Community Development Council, voted for by the students themselves.

LIVING ON CAMPUS

STUDENTS GET TO EXPERIENCE A FULL UNIVERSITY LIFE BY LIVING ON CAMPUS. The accommodations at NUS are tailored to meet the different needs of our students.

HALLS OF RESIDENCE

Living in the halls of residence is akin to having another family in school. As everyone is just a knock on the door away, all the late-night suppers and “mugging” (a colloquial term for studying hard) sessions foster a strong sense of camaraderie. Each hall has its own distinct culture and is led by an elected hall master and committee.

EUSOFF HALL
Eusoff Hall was previously known as one of the “sports halls” but has now made a name for itself not only in sports but also in cultural activities and community service.

KING EDWARD VII HALL
King Edward VII Hall holds its place of pride as the hall with the longest and richest heritage. It remains the hall of choice for many medicine, dentistry and science students because of its close proximity to these schools.

TEMASEK HALL
temasek.nus.edu.sg
Temasek Hall has a tagline that goes: “Some call it a hostel, we call it home”. Temasek Hall emphasises on cultivating close-knit relationships and building strong friendships amidst the hustle and bustle of university life.

RAFFLES HALL
raffles.nus.edu.sg
Located in the heart of NUS, Raffles Hall is a stone’s throw away from various schools and recreational centres on campus and is well-connected by every shuttle service within NUS. Centred on a spirit of togetherness, the hall offers a “home away from home” for its student residents.

SHEARES HALL
sheares.nus.edu.sg
Sheares Hall offers only single rooms, so residents get their fair share of privacy. However, most residents keep their doors open to their neighbours.

STUDENT RESIDENCES

Live with an international community of students in the residences. As residences offer more privacy, they tend to be quieter than halls. Currently, NUS has two residences: Kuok Foundation House and Prince George’s Park Residences.

RESIDENTIAL COLLEGES

Located in University Town (UTown), the residential colleges combine the vibrancy of campus living with exciting multidisciplinary academic programmes. Each residential college is led by a Rector, a Master and a team of faculty fellows.

CINNAMON COLLEGE
Cinnaman College houses the University Scholars Programme (USP), with University Professor Wang Gungwu as Rector and Director of USP Prof John Richardson as Master.

TEMBUGU COLLEGE
Ambassador-at-Large Prof Tommy Koh helms Tembusu College as Rector, with Assoc Prof Gregory Clancy as Master.

KING EDWARD VII HALL
kevii.nus.edu.sg
College of Alice & Peter Tan
NUS’ first residential college outside of UTown, Ridge View Residential College (RVRC) is an interdisciplinary living-learning programme anchored on the theme of sustainability for first-year undergraduates. RVRC is headed by College Master Prof Adekunle Adeyeye.

COLLEGE OF ALICE & PETER TAN
college.of.alice&.peter.tan@nus.edu.sg
College of Alice & Peter Tan is led by eminent policymaker and corporate leader Prof J Y Pillay as Rector and Assoc Prof Adeline Seow as Master.
